
RYA Level 2 Race Coach

The RYA Race Coach scheme is primarily aimed at those who can sail reasonably well and pass on their knowledge about racing. The first level of qualification is Race Coach level 2, which is a 2-3 day course (depending on location and hours per day) which qualifies you to teach RYA: Start Racing, Intermediate Racing and Advanced Racing courses. It will also give you the skills to coach your fellow Uni racers and teams.

What do you need?

- To be a reasonable experienced racer (good club racer/ team racers)
- Powerboat level 2
- RYA first aid certificate.
- RYA membership
- Be 16 or older

Why become a Race Coach?

This will not qualify you to teach beginners, but is ideal for those team sailors who want to help improve their team's performance. Doing better at events not only means you get to show off, but points= prizes and often more funding from your Student Union for your club. This helps the club do even better as the more funding your club can attract, the more likely it is to be stable and to be able to build upon that success.

For more information please see: <https://www.rya.org.uk/courses-training/teaching/race-coaches/Pages/racing-coach-level-2.aspx>

Or let the BUSA Development officer know you're interested by emailing: busacommittee@gmail.com

